Levin would have been favorite for reelection

Raleigh, N.C. - When we did our Michigan poll last weekend obviously we didn't know Carl Levin was going to announce his retirement this week, so we didn't test any other potential Democratic candidates. Our poll numbers on him do give a prism into the comparative strength of some of the possible Republican candidates though. The one who came the closest to Levin was Candice Miller, although she still trailed him 46/35. She has good statewide favorability numbers with $33 \%$ of voters rating her favorably to $25 \%$ with an unfavorable opinion.

No one else came within 15 points of Levin. Justin Amash has a 9/20 favorability rating and trailed Levin 49/34. Mike Rogers has a 16/19 favorability rating and trailed Levin 49/33. Bill Schuette has a 20/25 favorability rating and trailed Levin 51/32. And Roger Kahn had a 5/15 favorability rating and trailed Levin 50/30.

One other Republican who we didn't test on this poll but could potentially be a good candidate is former Secretary of State Terri Lynn Land. In December 2010 we found she had a 36/21 favorability rating and trailed Debbie Stabenow by only 4 points in a hypothetical contest.
"Carl Levin would have been an overwhelming favorite for reelection," said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. "It looks as though Candice Miller and Terri Lynn Land might be some of the stronger potential Republican candidates."

By a 45/35 margin voters think the state should keep the current system of all electoral votes going to the statewide winner rather than changing to an allocation by Congressional District model. 22\% of Republicans think the state should keep winner take all, while only $12 \%$ of Democrats support switching to a by district model.

Michigan voters support stricter gun laws in general by a 52/39 margin, and on the specific issue of an assault weapons ban they're supportive by a $54 / 37$ margin. There is near universal support among Democrats for the assault weapons ban, and even $36 \%$ of Republicans support it. The NRA has a 38/45 favorability rating in the state.

PPP surveyed 702 Michigan voters from March 2nd to 4th. The margin of error is +/$3.7 \%$. This poll was not paid for or authorized by any campaign or political organization. PPP surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews.
