McCrory continues to lead by 10

Raleigh, N.C. - PPP's newest North Carolina poll finds Pat McCrory's lead in the Governor's race holding steady. He's at 47\% to 37\% for Walter Dalton with Libertarian Barbara Howe at 5\%. Those numbers are exactly identical to what they were two weeks ago.

McCrory continues to be the most popular politician in the state, with a 47/31 favorability rating. Those numbers are far better than the sitting Governor or either Senator has. McCrory leads by a greater than 2:1 margin among independents, 52-25. He's also taking $18 \%$ of the Democratic vote from Dalton while losing just 7\% of Republicans.

Incumbents in the other Council of State races appear to be favored for reelection right now, although some of those contests are pretty close. Auditor Beth Wood leads Republican challenger Debra Goldman 40-36 and Treasurer Janet Cowell leads her GOP foe Steve Royal 41-36. Republican Agriculture Commissioner Steve Troxler looks like a shoo in for reelection with $45 \%$ to $35 \%$ for Democratic challenger Walter Smith.

The closest statewide race could end up being the open seat contest for Lieutenant Governor. There Republican Dan Forest leads Democrat Linda Coleman 38-37. This is the fourth PPP poll of the contest, and all four of them have found the candidates within two points of each other. It's likely to be an extremely close contest.

In the North Carolina Supreme Court race Sam Ervin IV continues to lead with 32\% to 24\% for incumbent Paul Newby. But the main story in the nonpartisan race is the undecideds- $44 \%$ of voters are undecided without having party cues to rely on.

The picture surrounding the North Carolina General Assembly is very similar to two weeks ago. The Legislature is quite unpopular, with a $17 \%$ approval rating to $49 \%$ of voters who disapprove of them. Democrats lead the generic legislative ballot 45/43, a massive shift from 2010 when the GOP was up by 11 points on that measure.

PPP surveyed 1,084 likely North Carolina voters from October $12^{\text {th }}$ to 14 th. The margin of error for the survey is $+/-3.0 \%$. This poll was not paid for or authorized by any campaign or political organization. PPP surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews.
