Capito leads opponents in match-ups

Raleigh, N.C. – With name recognition and hefty campaign coffers, Republican Rep. Shelley Moore Capito is in prime position for a 2014 Senate race. In head-to-head match-ups, she leads Democrats Sheirl Fletcher and Natalie Tennant by double-digit margins.

Among likely Republican primary voters, 72% have a favorable opinion of Capito. In a five-way contest, she leads with 72% of the vote. West Virginians like her the way she is – only 21% of Republican voters said they wanted someone more conservative.

Republican candidate Pat McGeehan trails Tennant but leads slightly against Fletcher. He has a 9% favorability rating, with 22% unfavorable and 69% not sure.

Capito is most popular with Republican voters over age 65, while more than a quarter of 18-45-year-old voters say they want someone more conservative. She has immense support among somewhat and very conservative voters.

On the Democratic survey, 51% prefer Tennant for their 2014 Senate candidate. 34% aren't sure or want someone else. Tennant has her strongest support among people who identify as very or somewhat liberal or moderate. 18-45-year-old voters are the biggest supporters of Fletcher. Tennant is most popular with voters over age 65.

Barack Obama has 28% approval and 67% disapproval. Half of Democratic voters in the state say they disapprove of the President's job performance. 91% of Republicans and 74% of Independents also disapprove.

“Shelley Moore Capito is starting out as the favorite in the race to replace Jay Rockefeller,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “She's in a good position for both the primary and general election. The question for Natalie Tennant is whether she can close the gap as she increases her name recognition to the point where she's as well known as Capito.”

PPP surveyed 1,110 West Virginia voters, including 600 usual Democratic primary voters and 348 usual Republican primary voters, between September 19-22, 2013. The margin of error for the overall survey is +/- 2.9%, +/- 4.0% for the Democratic portion, and +/- 5.3% for the GOP portion. This poll was not authorized or paid for by any campaign or political organization. PPP's surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews.
