Numbers for Obama, Democrats Tick Up Nationally

Raleigh, N.C. - PPP's newest national poll finds the overall political climate improving slightly for Democrats over the last month: Barack Obama's approval ratings have ticked up a little bit, the Obamacare rollout is getting better reviews, and the party's retaken the lead on the generic Congressional ballot.

Barack Obama's approval rating stands at $43 / 51$ this month, the best it's been since a 46/50 standing in October. He's improved a net 6 points after hitting a record low in PPP's polling in December at 41/55. Nevertheless Obama still has big problems with independents, coming in at 30/62 with them.

Perceptions of the Obamacare rollout are still negative, but they're at least improving. In late January only $32 \%$ of voters said they felt the rollout had been successful, compared to $62 \%$ who rated it unsuccessful. Now $39 \%$ say they think the rollout's been a success to $56 \%$ who give it low marks. Overall 39\% of voters support the Affordable Care Act to $48 \%$ who are opposed, numbers pretty much consistent with what we've found since 2009.

Democrats have reclaimed the lead on the generic Congressional ballot, 43/40, after trailing 42/40 on it in January. Congressional Democrats have poor approval numbers, at a 35/56 spread, but that puts them far ahead of Congressional Republicans who come in at $23 / 67$. One key difference is that Democrats are at least happy with their own party in Congress, giving it a 66/21 approval, while Republicans give their own a negative assessment at 43/48.
"Things still aren’t great for Democrats," said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. "But they're better than they've been since the government shutdown."

The minimum wage issue continues to play out well for Democrats. $56 \%$ of voters support increasing it to $$ 10$ an hour, compared to only $38 \%$ opposed. We've also found support for this everywhere that we've polled on the state level. Democrats (83/12) almost unanimously favor the increase, and $29 \%$ of Republicans do as well.

PPP surveyed 1,152 registered voters from March $6^{\text {th }}$ to 9 th. The margin of error for the survey is $+/-2.9 \% .80 \%$ of interviews for the poll were conducted over the phone with $20 \%$ interviewed over the internet to reach respondents who don't have landline telephones.
