Montana governor's race a toss up

Raleigh, N.C. – While Democrats can no longer run term limited Montana Governor Brian Schweitzer in the governor's race, they don't have to give up the governorship in this red leaning state. Democrats have a strong chance at retaining the seat if either Lieutenant Governor John Bohlinger or Attorney General Steve Bullock wins the nomination.

Governor Brian Schweitzer remains quite popular with 52% of Montana voters approving and 38% disapproving. His numbers are down a bit from his 55-33 rating in November. Schweitzer has faced a significant decline among independents who now approve only 47-42 (58-29 in November). Nevertheless, he retains strength by locking in Democrats 88-9 and garnering a fair amount of Republican support 26-58. Voters' positive impressions of the Schweitzer administration are doubtless an aid to other Democrats who wish to succeed Schweitzer.

Bohlinger and Bullock both lead most potential Republican candidates, but are in a dead heat with former Congressman Rick Hill. Bohlinger leads State Senator Jeff Essmann 40-33, former gubernatorial candidate Ken Miller 39-33, and trails Hill 39-40. Bullock receives similar support and leads Essmann 38-33, Miller 38-34, and loses to Hill 37-39 (31-41 in November). Democratic State Senator Dave Wanzonried does not fare as well, losing to Essmann 31-33, Miller 30-35, and Hill 30-40.

All of the candidates are relatively unknown, with only Bohlinger recognized by over 50% of voters. Of those who venture an opinion, Bohlinger and Bullock are popular with favorability ratings of 31-21 and 28-18 respectively. None of the other candidates even make it into positive territory. Favorability is 20-25 for Hill, 11-17 for Wanzonried, 8-16 for Miller, and a lowly 6-22 for Essman. That Hill ties considerably more popular Bohlinger and Bullock shows the strength of the GOP in Montana. If Democrats are to win the governorship once again, they will need a strong candidate.

PPP surveyed 819 Montana voters from June 16th to 19th. The margin of error for the survey is +/-3.4%. This poll was not paid for or authorized by any campaign or political organization. PPP surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews. PPP is a Democratic polling company, but polling expert Nate Silver of the New York Times found that its surveys in 2010 actually exhibited a slight bias toward Republican candidates.
