Colorado Senate Race Close, Hickenlooper opens up bigger lead

Raleigh, N.C. – PPP's newest Colorado poll finds that the Senate race remains very competitive, although not that much closer with Cory Gardner in the race than it was with Ken Buck. Our last poll of the state, in early December, found Mark Udall leading Buck by 4 points. Udall starts out with a 2 point lead over Cory Gardner at 42/40. The close division mirrors how voters feel about Udall's job performance- 41% approve and 40% disapprove of him, almost identical to where we found him in December.

Udall would have wider leads if one of the other Republican candidates was to win the primary. He would lead Owen Hill 43/38 and Randy Baumgardner 44/37. Gardner's entry into the race has broken open the GOP primary field though. Gardner's now at 44% to 15% for Baumgardner, 6% for Hill, 4% for Tom Janich, and 3% for Mark Aspiri.

Things are looking up for Democrats in the Colorado Governor's race though. John Hickenlooper's approval rating is back on positive ground at 48/41, after slipping into negative territory on our December poll. Hickenlooper's also back to having double digit leads over all of his potential Republican opponents. Bob Beauprez comes closest at 48/38, followed by Scott Gessler at 48/36, Tom Tancredo at 50/36, Greg Brophy at 48/33, and Mike Kopp at 49/32.

Beauprez's entry into the field has dramatically reshifted the Republican race for Governor. Our December poll found Tom Tancredo with a 19 point lead over Scott Gessler for the nomination, but now it's looking like a pretty close three way race. Tancredo still leads, but with only 24% to 20% for Beauprez and 18% for Gessler. Kopp at 8%, Brophy at 7%, Steve House at 3%, and Roni Bell Sylvester at 1% round out the GOP primary field.

“Things are looking up for John Hickenlooper,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “But if the Senate race remains this close Colorado will be at the center of the national political spotlight for a fourth election cycle in a row.”

PPP surveyed 568 registered voters from March 13th to 16th, including 255 Republican primary voters. The margin of error for the overall survey is +/- 4.1%, and for the Republicans it's +/- 6.1%. 80% of interviews for the poll were conducted over the phone with 20% interviewed over the internet to reach respondents who don't have landline telephones.
