Democrats Lead the Way in Colorado

Raleigh, N.C. – In the upcoming Gubernatorial and Senate elections, Democratic Gov. John Hickenlooper and Senator Mark Udall look favorable against every Republican potential vying for their seat.

While both Governor Hickenlooper and Senator Udall have the added advantage of incumbency, these Democrats have approval ratings of at least 50% (53% and 50%, respectively).

Potential Republican candidates for the gubernatorial election include Bob Beauprez (favorability of 15%), Cory Gardner (18%), Scott Gessler (10%), Jane Norton (20%), Walker Stapleton (10%), John Suthers (15%), Tom Tancredo (30%), and Scott Tipton (16%). Most of these Republican potentials were unfamiliar to voters except for Tom Tancredo.

When pitted against these potential Republican candidates for Governor, Hickenlooper beats every single one. The smallest lead Hickenlooper held was against Beauprez (50-43) and the largest lead he held was against Tancredo (52-41).

These same Republican potentials were pitted against incumbent Mark Udall for the Senate race and similar results were produced. The smallest lead Udall held was against Beauprez (48-41) and the largest lead was a tie between Tipton, Stapleton and Gessler (50-37).

“John Hickenlooper and Mark Udall look like clear favorites for reelection at this point,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “When the strongest potential Republican candidate is someone who lost a 2006 Gubernatorial race by 17 points it’s a sign that the GOP bench in the state is very weak.”

PPP will release more Colorado poll numbers looking at guns, gay marriage, and a potential 2016 Hickenlooper bid for President tomorrow.

PPP surveyed 500 Colorado voters from April 11th to 14th. The margin of error is +/- 4.4%. This poll was not paid for or authorized by any campaign or political organization. PPP surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews.
