Obama leads Romney and Paul by only a point in Florida

Raleigh, N.C. – In what has been perpetually one of the closest and most important states in the last few presidential elections, President Obama now leads two of his potential opponents by only a single point. The leader in the Florida primary, per yesterday's release, Mitt Romney trails only 46-45, up from 47-43 in June. The surprise is the other candidate breathing down his neck: Ron Paul, who lags only 45-44.

Obama's approval rating in Florida has declined a little since PPP last polled the state three months ago. Then, voters about broke even on him, with 48% approving and 49% disapproving. That is now a 46-51 spread. Michele Bachmann's favorability has shifted 29 points in the wrong direction since the previous poll. In June, 36% saw her favorably and 37% unfavorably. That is now 26-56, making her narrowly the least popular of the Republicans, followed closely by Newt Gingrich (28-57) and Rick Perry (29-58). Paul stands at 31-51, with Romney by far the best-liked of the GOP bunch, at 40-46, down slightly from 41-45 in June. Perry, Gingrich, and Paul were not tested then.

Despite Bachmann's personal slide being much greater than the president's, she has only gained on him. Obama led her, 49-40, when she was first bursting onto the scene, but she now trails only 49-44—actually closer than Perry's and Gingrich's respective 50-43 and 50-42 deficits.

By a 42-49 margin, voters disapprove of the president's handling of Israel, but Jewish voters approve, 61-31. Only a quarter of voters think Social Security is a Ponzi scheme, and 63% disagree.

“Florida makes it pretty clear that out of the two Republican front runners there's one who can beat Barack Obama and one who can't,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “There's no way the GOP wins next year without Florida, and it doesn't look like Rick Perry can do that.”

PPP surveyed 476 Florida voters from September 22nd to 25th. The margin of error for the survey is +/-4.5%. This poll was not paid for or authorized by any campaign or political organization. PPP surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews. PPP is a Democratic polling company, but polling expert Nate Silver of the New York Times found that its surveys in 2010 actually exhibited a slight bias toward Republican candidates.
