Barnes leads in Governor's Race

Raleigh, N.C. – Sonny Perdue's approval ratings have fallen in the tank, and Roy Barnes leads the top Republican candidates in his bid to replace the man who defeated him for reelection eight years ago.

Perdue's approval rating is now just 29%, with 52% of voters in the state disapproving of him. His support is significantly diminished among Republicans, with 44% of them approving of him and 36% disapproving. With Democrats and independents his approval has really collapsed- he gets good marks from just 15% and 28% respectively within those two groups.

Barnes has a 40/39 lead over John Oxendine, a 41-36 one over Karen Handel, and a 43-38 one over Nathan Deal. Those leads are a little misleading because more Republicans are undecided than Democrats in each of the three match ups. That may be a product of Barnes being better known than any of the Republican candidates, and it means the race will probably get tighter once the Republicans have a nominee.

The Republicans all easily lead Attorney General Thurbert Baker, the other top Democratic candidate in the race. Deal is up 40-29 on him, Oxendine has a 42-33 advantage, and Handel's lead is 40-33.

Even Barnes' name recognition seems to have faded a little. 69% of voters have an opinion about him, followed by 63% for Oxendine, 41% for Baker, 38% for Handel, and 29% for Deal.

"This race definitely qualifies as a toss up right now," said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. "There aren't a lot of states McCain won where Democrats can say that right now but Barnes is one of their stronger candidates."

PPP surveyed 596 Georgia voters from February 26th to 28th. The survey's margin of error is +/-4.0%. Other factors, such as refusal to be interviewed and weighting, may introduce additional error that is more difficult to quantify.
