Toss Up in the Kentucky Governor's Race

Raleigh, N.C. – PPP's first general election poll of the race for Governor in Kentucky finds a very tight race. In a head-to-head election, 40% of voters choose Republican Matt Bevin over Democrat Jack Conway, who garners 38%. Bevin is viewed favorably 31/28, while Conway is viewed unfavorably 34/31- a plurality of the electorate has no opinion about each candidate.

“The race for Governor in Kentucky is pretty up for grabs,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “Voters aren't that familiar with either candidate and as a result we're seeing a lot more undecideds than we usually would at this stage of the race. This is one where the campaigns really will go a long way toward determining who wins rather than it being preordained from the start.”

Republicans have leads of varying sizes in the down ballot races. In the race for Attorney General, Republican Whitney Westerfield leads Democrat Andy Beshear 41/36. Republican Steve Knipper has a 5-point advantage (47/42) over incumbent Democrat Alison Lundergan Grimes in the race for Secretary of State. Incumbent Democrat Adam Edelen trails Republican challenger Mike Harmon by 6 points (33/39). GOP candidates lead for Treasurer and Agriculture Commissioner as well.

Kentucky Senator and US Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell continues to experience negative approval ratings (32/54). Kentuckians still approve of US Senator and Presidential hopeful Rand Paul's job performance 43/42. In theoretical races against Steve Beshear and Crit Luallen for one of Kentucky's US Senate seats, Paul leads 49/39 and 51/37 respectively.

“Rand Paul will be a clear favorite for reelection if the Senate ends up being what he runs for next year,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “Even though Steve Beshear is the most popular politician in the state, that doesn't translate to a Democrat winning a federal election in Kentucky.”

Public Policy Polling surveyed 1,108 registered voters from June 18th-21st. The margin of error for this survey was +/-2.9%. 80% of participants responded via the phone, while 20% of respondents who do not have landlines completed the survey over the Internet.
