North Carolinians give McCrory a 'C' for work so far

Raleigh, N.C. – North Carolinians give Pat McCrory a C for his work as Governor so far. We asked on our monthly poll what letter grade they would give McCrory based on his time in office to date and his reviews came in right down the middle. 42% give him an A or a B, compared to 37% who give him a D or an F. But since his F's (20%) outweigh his A's (17%) it puts him at a C overall.

McCrory's approval rating this month is 43% to 45% of voters who disapprove of him. For the fifth month in a row we find that a hypothetical contest between him and Roy Cooper would be within a couple points, with McCrory at 44% this month to 43% for Cooper. There is virtually no support for impeaching Cooper, a possibility allegedly brought up by a Republican legislator a few weeks ago. Just 16% of voters would favor that course of action to 42% who are opposed and 42% who have no opinion either way.

“Pat McCrory has had negative approval ratings for over a year now,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “That has the 2016 race for Governor shaping up as one that looks like it will be really competitive, at least at this early stage.”

Richard Burr is one of the lowest profile Senators in the country- 32% of voters approve of him, 32% of voters disapprove of him, and even after 10 years in office a 36% plurality has no opinion about him either way- those numbers are pretty similar to what we found for Pat Roberts at the beginning of this cycle. Nevertheless Burr would start out with decent sized leads for reelection against a quartet of hypothetical opponents we tested against him- he would be up 44/37 on Janet Cowell, 45/35 on Anthony Foxx, 45/33 on Grier Martin, and 45/32 on Allen Joines.

North Carolinians continue to be closely divided when it comes to how they plan to vote for the legislature this year- 44% say they would vote Democratic if there was an election today, compared to 43% who say they would vote Republican. If those numbers hold it would likely result in Democrats gaining a few seats in the state House and Senate, but not a huge number.

PPP surveyed 856 likely voters from August 14th to 17th. The margin of error for the survey is +/- 3.4%. 80% of interviews for the poll were conducted over the phone with 20% interviewed over the internet to reach respondents who don't have landline telephones.
