NJ on the 2013 Governor's race and 2016 Presidential

Raleigh, N.C. – PPP's newest New Jersey poll finds Chris Christie hard to beat in a hypothetical match up for next year's Governor's race when pitted against Democrats Cory Booker, Barbara Buono, Richard Codey, Bruce Springsteen and Steve Sweeney. Booker polled closest to Christie, 14 points behind, compared to former Governor Richard Codey, trailing by 22 points. State Senators Steve Sweeney and Barbara Buono fared worse against Christie than The Boss did, with a 36 point spread for Springsteen, to Sweeney's 37 and Buono's 40 point deficit. While the news for Democrats is dismal, it's not surprising- Christie's approval has never been higher, at 67%. What is surprising is how he performed among women and Democrats. On the topic of Hurricane Sandy, women approved his handling of the storm 91-8 and Democrats 90-9.

When asked who they would vote for President in 2016, Republican Primary voters chose Chris Christie, at 48%. Although Republicans are somewhat ambivalent on whether they'd like to see Christie run to President in 2016- 66% would like him to, as opposed to 35% who would not like him to or are unsure- he performed significantly better than the runner up, Marco Rubio, at 14%. Jeb Bush took the #3 pick with 10% and the bottom six candidates received a total of 23% of the vote. Chris Christie, Mike Huckabee, Condoleezza Rice and Rick Santorum all performed better among women than men, with women favoring Christie 54-41.

Among Democratic Primary voters, Hillary Clinton was the easy favorite at 58%. Andrew Cuomo and Joe Biden were tied for second at 12% each. Among the two largest ideological demographics, respondents who consider themselves "somewhat liberal" or "somewhat moderate", Clinton swept support with 65% and 52% respectively.

"Chris Christie is going to be heard to beat for Governor next year," said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. "But New Jersey voters are still feeling ambivalent about a White House bid from him."

PPP surveyed 600 New Jersey voters, 268 Republican Primary voters and 300 Democratic Primary voters from November 26th to 28th. The MOE for the 600 NJ voters is +/-4%, the MOE for the 300 Democratic Primary voters is +/-5.66% and the MOE for the 268 Republican primary voters is +/- 6%. This poll was not paid for or authorized by any campaign or political organization. PPP surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews.
