Mandel closes on Brown, still down 8

Raleigh, N.C. – As Ohioans have become a little more familiar with Republican Senate nominee Josh Mandel, his deficit to freshman Sen. Sherrod Brown has closed a little. When PPP last surveyed the state a little over three months ago, only 39% had an opinion of their new state treasurer, and they fell at 14% favorable and 25% unfavorable. That has now risen to 55% (25-30). All of the positive movement comes with Republicans (20-15 to 39-14) and independents (13-26 to 23-28), while Democrats have soured even more on him (10-33 to 12-47). Brown's approval numbers have slipped a little as well, from 42% approving and 34% disapproving to 40-35.

Because of this shift towards a more positive view of Mandel and a slightly more negative one of Brown, the GOP candidate now only trails Brown by eight points (45-37), an improvement over his 11-point disadvantage in January (47-36). Brown leads by 13 (42-29) with independents. Both candidates have room to consolidate their bases: Brown gets 77% of Democrats and Mandel 70% of Republicans.

“Sherrod Brown continues to be favored for reelection,” said Dean Debnam, President of Public Policy Polling. “Josh Mandel's not making a great impression on the voters so far.”

Gov. John Kasich would be in a neck-and-neck race for re-election right now, and it's a good thing for him he has two more years to continue to improve his public image. He would trail his predecessor Ted Strickland by a 47-40 margin; Kasich prevailed by two points in 2010. Kasich would tie two other prominent potential Democratic challengers, former Attorney General and current Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Director Richard Cordray (42-all) and Rep. Tim Ryan (Ryan up 41-40). Ryan is a known quantity to only 31% of voters and Cordray to 43%, versus Strickland's 76% and Kasich's 87%, so they would have time to match Strickland's performance if they jumped into the race.

Ohio is moving toward favoring legal rights for same-sex couples just like the rest of the country is. Only 35% support full marriage equality, and 52% oppose it, but 65% support some sort of legal recognition for gay couples, including 77% of Democrats, 66% of independents, and even 50% of Republicans.

PPP surveyed 875 Ohio voters from May 3rd to 6th. The margin of error for the survey is +/-3.3%. This poll was not paid for or authorized by any campaign or political organization. PPP surveys are conducted through automated telephone interviews.
